

Jazz in the Arboretum

Media release

Wednesday 1 September 2021

Re: Pearl Beach Spring Jazz in the Arboretum Saturday 23 October, 2021 – Postponed

Pearl Beach Jazz in the Arboretum, jointly hosted by the Pearl Beach Progress Association and the Pearl Beach Arboretum Committee has been an annual fundraising concert event since inception in 1994. We are extremely disappointed that we need to cancel at this time.

This year with Australia's first lady of Jazz, Emma Pask and virtuoso violinist Ian Cooper - a much-loved regular to our concerts, promised to be one of our best ever. However it is obvious we must postpone and re-schedule the event, as we do not believe the situation will ease sufficiently to allow visitor capacity at the site necessary to cover overheads and expenses.

Lynne Lillico comments, 'as one of the co-ordinators for the past few years I have enjoyed being involved at such a marvellous community activity held in a spiritual and special environmental space attracting visitors from near and far, and we look forward to holding the concert later in 2022, so watch this space!'

End:

Lynne Lillico

Pearl Beach Progress Association Events/Publicity

